Forgotten Books, United States, 2015. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Primer of Industry, Vol. 40 Primer of Industry furnishes suggestions for occupations and exercises which are pleasant, profitable, and instructive, and at the same time are not so burdensome to the child that he will regard them as work. These exercises are designed, not simply to keep the children entertained and occupied, but to lay the foundation for an industrial training correlated with language and number work. In all the occupations the teacher or older pupil who directs the children must avoid every appearance of giving formal lessons. While the exercises are clearly and definitely pictured so that the children can easily follow them, the full results cannot be attained unless the teacher reads the notes carefully, makes a program for each days work, and directs the pupils intelligently. The teacher will be helped by reading Industrial Studies and Exercises: Teacher s Edition, particularly Chapters I, II, and IX. It is not intended that any one kind of exercise be fully covered before proceeding to the next. After having laid some of the designs with sticks, the children may lay the same forms with shells or seeds (page 32), or perforate them (page 38), or sew them (pages 41, 42). Tablet laying, tangrams, grass and string ornaments - all these exercises may appear in the program of the early weeks. This varying of exercises adds interest. Moreover, the forming of a design from different materials fixes the design upon the child s mind, and also shows him that some designs appear better in one material and others look better worked with other materials. Children like to talk about their plays and games; therefore it is...
