Not illustrated. 1850 Excerpt: .the great changes which have taken place in the relative value of property. It was fixed this year at is. in the pound. Mr. Burrell s income, therefore, derived from land, was about 260 a year, equivalent, probably, to three times that sum at present. The charge for personal property was 24s. for every 100*i*. Six per cent, was about the interest of money in those days; his income, therefore, would, from this statement, have been about 360 a year, besides what he made by his profession; but in his will he bequeaths the rent of several houses in St. Clement s, London, the value of which is not specified. The presents this year came freely in, including half bucks, sides, and haunches of venison, crammed pullets, messes of Hastings peas, a salt fish, a collar of brawn, half a dozen bottles of sack, and the...
