Permit me to state first that I have no personal investments in oil or gas properties in Oklahoma or Indian Territory. I nevertheless am familiar with the subject of the development of the oil-producing sections of our country, as I have spent nearly all my life in the oil belt. Oil production, like every form of mining, necessarily involves large elements of risk. If it did not it could be handled on the same basis that most other legitimate undertakings are handled. It is not necessary for me to state that we are all interested in the largest development possible of the natural resources of our country. This can only be done by pursuing a liberal policy with the oil producer. I understand that my friend, Mr. Theodore N. Barnsdall, of Pittsburg, Pa., has been one of the principal developers of the oil and gas sections of the southwest. He organized the Kansas Natural Gas Company, which is now supplying about 350,000 people with gas at prices ranging from 25 to 30 cents per thousand. In the places where artificial gas was used it was sold...
